

The NEW YORK Sun

March 2008

Paintings

Light up the Sky Karen Arm's fourth exhibit at P.P.O.W Gallery, "New Works," features paintings created with an original mark-making technique that replicates elements of the night sky, including star clusters and galactic spirals. Her artworks employ no more than two colors, highlighting the differences between the heavens and the stars that populate them. Selections from the show include "Untitled (sun #1)" (2008), a detail of which is above. Through Saturday, March 22, Tuesday – Saturday, 10 a.m. – 6p.m., P.P.O.W Gallery, 555 W. 25th St., between Tenth and Eleventh avenues, 212-647-1044, free.